

Reproduced with the kind permission of the KM Group

STAR LETTER

Chaucer Fields, overlooking Canterbury city centre, the planned site for a new conference centre and accommodation at the University of Kent

Save our Chaucer Fields

*The Chaucer Fields are ours to keep It's time to hear the people speak.
Our kids played here for many years
They stumbled, and we mopped their tears.
They played their games and rode their sledges
Through fields of snow and whitened hedges
We walked our dogs, and chased them too!
They loved that space and mine still do.
We cannot bear to lose this space
Or else where will our children race?
And play their games and walk their dogs,
While adults breath the country air
And can relax without the fear*

*That speeding cars come far too near.
This serene and lovely place
Was our joy for many years,
Please don't let it end in tears.
The Chaucer Fields are here to stay
We cannot lose them in this way.
Do not build on Chaucer Fields!
Think only of the joy it yields
To us and generations past,
We love this place and it must last.
We can't give up without a fight
To keep that which is ours by right.
So come on people join together
To keep that which is ours-forever!*

Joyce Sampe, Beaconsfield Road (previous resident for 30 years at Harkness Drive), Canterbury